This time, we're pairing the briny sauce of capers, cornichons, parsley, lemon, and garlic with savory pan-roasted pork chops for the perfect acidic counterpoint to the rich meat. Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

Cutting the carrots on a diagonal, also known as a bias cut, increases surface area. This helps them cook through evenly, and creates a nice presentation.

Parsley stems are actually quite tender, so we've kept them here for extra flavor in your salsa verde.

USDA recommends cooking pork to 145°F.

1. Prepare ingredients

Preheat oven to 450°F. Bring a medium pot of water to a boil over high heat. Rinse all produce. Cut carrots crosswise on a diagonal into ½-inch slices (see recipe tip). Finely chop parsley leaves and stems (see recipe tip). Trim and discard scallion root and thinly slice, keeping whites and light greens separate from dark greens. Halve lemon. Finely chop capers and cornichons.

2. Roast rainbow carrots

On a baking sheet, toss carrots with ½ tablespoon olive oil, ½ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Arrange in a single layer (doing so will help your carrots roast instead of steam). Roast until browned and tender, 9–11 minutes, then set aside until Step 6.

3. Cook Israeli couscous

While carrots roast, season boiling water generously with salt. Stir in couscous and cook until tender, about 8 minutes (move on to the next step—but don't forget to come back!). Then, drain couscous and return to pot, off heat. Stir in spinach, scallion dark greens, ½ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired to combine. Set aside until ready to serve.

4. Make salsa verde

While couscous cooks, mince garlic and, still on cutting board, sprinkle over ⅛ teaspoon salt. Using a large knife, carefully scrape over mixture at a 45° angle, pressing down. Repeat until garlic is broken down and a paste forms, then transfer to a medium bowl, along with vinegar, parsley, capers, cornichons, juice of ½ lemon, scallion whites and light greens, 2 tablespoons olive oil, ⅛ teaspoon salt, and pepper. Stir salsa verde to combine. Set aside.

5. Sear pork chops

Pat pork chops dry with paper towel and season all over with ¾ teaspoon salt and pepper as desired. Heat 1 tablespoon olive oil in a medium pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add pork and sear until browned and cooked through, 3–5 minutes per side. Transfer to a plate and set aside to rest for about 5 minutes.

6. Plate pan-roasted pork chops

Divide couscous among serving plates. Add half of salsa verde to baking sheet with carrots, stir to coat, and transfer to serving plates with couscous. Top with pan-roasted pork chops and spoon over remaining salsa verde. Enjoy! Save remaining lemon to brighten a glass of water.
