Oregano Chicken

with Sautéed Spinach and Lemon Potatoes

In this Greek-inspired dish, we're marinating chicken in white wine, garlic, and lemon for a burst of brightness and acidity and searing it until moist. Then, we're using the leftover juices and browned bits in the pan—known in the culinary world as fond—to infuse wilted spinach and tender shallot with extra flavor. It's one of our favorite simple yet cheffy techniques for tying together all the elements of the meal.

Recipe Tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

Letting the potatoes cool on the baking sheet makes them easier to loosen and keeps the crispy crusts, one of our favorite parts of the dish, intact.

The chicken might have a slight odor as a natural reaction to its vacuum packing. USDA recommends cooking chicken to 165°F.

1. Marinate Chicken

Preheat oven to 450°F. Rinse all produce. Roughly chop oregano leaves, discarding stems. Using the flat side of a knife, gently crush garlic cloves. In a large shallow bowl or resealable plastic bag, combine white wine, oregano, crushed garlic cloves, 1 tablespoon olive oil, ½ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Pat chicken dry with paper towel, add to marinade, and turn to coat. Set aside to marinate at room temperature for about 10 minutes.

2. Prepare Ingredients

While chicken marinates, halve potatoes lengthwise, and arrange cut-side down on cutting board. Cut each half lengthwise into 3 equal wedges and transfer to a baking sheet. Halve lemon. Roughly chop parsley leaves, discarding stems. Peel shallot, halve, and thinly slice.

3. Roast Potatoes

Toss potatoes on baking sheet with 1 tablespoon olive oil, ¼ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Arrange cut-side down in a single layer and roast until golden and tender, 25 minutes. Then, remove from oven and allow to cool on baking sheet, at least 5 minutes (see Recipe Tip).

4. Cook Chicken

While potatoes roast, remove chicken from marinade, allowing excess liquid to drip off. Heat 1 tablespoon olive oil in a medium pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add chicken and sear until cooked through and no longer pink, about 6 minutes per side. Transfer to serving plates and cover with foil until ready to serve, leaving juices behind in pan for the next step.

5. Sauté Spinach

Return pan from chicken to medium heat, adding more olive oil to coat bottom of pan as needed. When oil is shimmering, add shallot and cook, scraping up any brown bits from pan, until beginning to brown, about 3 minutes. Add spinach to pan and sauté, stirring, until wilted, about 3 minutes more. Season with ¼ teaspoon salt and pepper as desired and remove from heat.

6. Plate Oregano Chicken

Once potatoes have cooled, still on baking sheet, squeeze over juice of 1 lemon and toss with parsley to coat. Transfer sautéed spinach and lemon potatoes to serving plates with oregano chicken. Dig in!
