Chicken Souvlaki

with Tzatziki, Pita Chips, and Little Gem Salad

Greek tzatziki is one of our all-time favorite condiments. It typically combines yogurt, cucumber, fresh herbs, and lemon for brightness; here, we swap the citrus for tangy red wine vinegar. We love the creamy contrast the mixture brings to the crunchy veggies and crisp-skinned chicken in tonight's dinner. It also works so well as a dip for the homemade pita chips served alongside.

- 1½ tablespoons red wine vinegar

You'll need

olive oil kosher salt
black pepper
10" medium pan
baking sheet

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

Patting the chicken very dry before seasoning and searing will help the skin crisp up in the pan.

The garlic infused the chicken with flavor as it cooked, but won't be pleasant to bite into—we recommend discarding before serving.

The chicken might have a slight odor as a natural reaction to its vacuum packing. USDA recommends cooking chicken to 165°F.

1. Prepare ingredients

Preheat oven to 450°F. Halve little gem lengthwise and rinse thoroughly, then cut leaves crosswise into ½-inch strips, discarding tough stem. Rinse remaining produce. Halve tomatoes. Finely chop dill and parsley leaves and stems. Roughly chop pepperoncini. Using the flat side of a knife, gently crush garlic clove. Pat chicken very dry with paper towel (see recipe tip) and season all over with ½ teaspoon salt and pepper.

2. Cook garlic chicken

Heat 2 teaspoons olive oil in a medium pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add chicken skin-side down; sear until skin is golden and easily lifts from pan, 6 minutes. Flip chicken, then add crushed garlic and 1 tablespoon olive oil. Cook, repeatedly spooning over garlic oil, until chicken is no longer pink, 6 minutes more. Remove pan from heat. Transfer chicken to a plate and pour over garlic oil; discard garlic (see recipe tip).

3. Bake pita chips

While chicken cooks, stack pita breads and cut into 8 equal wedges. On a baking sheet, arrange pita wedges in a single layer. Rub pita wedges all over with 1 tablespoon olive oil total, then season with dried oregano. Bake until golden and crisp, 8–10 minutes.

4. Make tzatziki

While pita chips bake, using the large holes of a box grater, grate cucumbers; alternatively, finely chop. Line a medium bowl with paper towels. Add cucumber to prepared bowl, wrap in towels, and squeeze out and discard any excess moisture (this ensures a creamy, rich tzatziki). Return drained cucumber to bowl. Stir in Greek yogurt, half of red wine vinegar (reserve remainder), half of dill, half of parsley, ¼ teaspoon salt, and pepper; set aside.

5. Make little gem salad

In a large bowl, whisk together remaining dill, remaining parsley, remaining red wine vinegar, 2 tablespoons olive oil, ¼ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Add little gem, tomatoes, and pepperoncini; toss to coat.

6. Plate chicken souvlaki

Cut garlic chicken into ¼-inch slices. Spread tzatziki over half of each serving plate, then top with sliced chicken (this helps the skin stay crisp). Add little gem salad to plates with chicken, along with pita chips. Dig in!
