Chicken Tikka Masala Wraps

with Cauliflower and Coriander

Rich, creamy Indian chicken tikka masala is always a crowd-pleaser. Though it's usually served over rice, here, we create a handheld version of the dish, marinating the chicken in yogurt and aromatic tikka masala curry paste for extra moisture and flavor, then stuffing it into warm tortillas with coriander-roasted cauliflower. A garnish of fragrant cilantro leaves adds a pop of color.

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking.

The yogurt marinade infuses the chicken with moisture and rich flavor. If you have extra time, you can cover the bowl with plastic wrap, then marinate up to 1 hour in the refrigerator to ensure extra-tender results.

The chicken might have a slight odor as a natural reaction to its vacuum packing. USDA recommends cooking chicken to 165°F.

1. Marinate chicken

Preheat oven to 475°F. In a medium bowl, whisk together half of Greek yogurt, ½ tablespoon curry paste (reserve remainder for Step 5), ½ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Pat chicken dry with paper towel, cut into ½-inch pieces, and add to bowl with marinade. Turn to coat; set aside to marinate at room temperature until Step 4 (see recipe tip).

2. Prepare ingredients

While chicken marinates, rinse all produce. Roughly chop or tear cilantro leaves; cut stems into ½-inch pieces, keeping separate. Cut cauliflower into ½ inch–wide florets, if needed. Stack tortillas and wrap in foil. Line 2 baking sheets with foil.

3. Roast vegetables

On 1 prepared sheet, toss cauliflower with coriander, 1 tablespoon olive oil, ¼ teaspoon salt, and pepper. Arrange in a single layer and roast until beginning to brown, 10–12 minutes—move on to Step 4, but don't forget to come back (see recipe tip). Then, add carrots and cilantro stems to sheet and toss to combine. Continue roasting until carrots are softened and cauliflower is browned and tender, 2–3 minutes more.

4. Bake chicken and tortillas

While vegetables roast, using a slotted spoon or tongs, remove chicken from marinade, allowing excess to drip off; add to other prepared sheet in a single layer. Bake (with vegetables) until chicken is cooked through and no longer pink, 9–11 minutes (move on again, but don't forget to come back!). Then, place tortillas in oven to warm through, 5–6 minutes. Meanwhile, heat 2 teaspoons olive oil in a medium pan over medium heat.

5. Finish chicken tikka masala

When oil in pan is shimmering, add tomato paste and remaining curry paste; cook, stirring, until fragrant, 1–2 minutes. Stir in baked chicken and ½ cup water. Increase heat to high and bring to a boil, then reduce heat to medium and simmer until thickened, 3–4 minutes more. Remove pan from heat and set aside to cool slightly, 1–2 minutes. Then, stir in remaining yogurt, half of cilantro leaves, ½ teaspoon salt, and pepper to combine.

6. Assemble and plate wraps

Arrange warm tortillas on a clean, dry surface. Place roasted vegetables in a horizontal line on each tortilla, leaving a 1-inch border. Top with chicken tikka masala, leaving a 1-inch border. Fold in sides; roll up tightly away from you to seal. Halve chicken tikka masala wraps crosswise on a diagonal. Transfer to serving plates. Garnish with remaining cilantro leaves. Dig in!
