Chicken Soup

with Brown Rice, Swiss Chard, and Peas

Cold outside? Chicken soup. Under the weather? Chicken soup! Maxed out on holiday indulgence and looking to follow a low-fat diet (aka hit the reset button) before the next round of feasting? You know the drill. Here, we add peas and seasonal Swiss chard for green, and replace noodles with nutty, whole-grain brown rice, which retains its satisfyingly chewy texture, even in the aromatic broth.

Ingredients

- 2 leeks
- 2 stalks celery
- 8 ounces carrots
- 10 ounces rainbow Swiss chard, divided
- 1½ cups brown rice
- 4 boneless skinless chicken breasts
- 2 lemons
- 1 herb mix
  - ¼ ounce chives
  - ¼ ounce dill
- 64 ounces chicken stock
- 1 cup peas
- 2 ounces shaved Parmesan cheese

You'll Need

olive oil kosher salt
black pepper
8" medium pot
baking sheet
10" large pot

Recipe Tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking.

Cutting vegetables on a diagonal, also known as a bias cut, increases surface area, which helps them cook evenly.

The amount of water isn't indicated for cooking brown rice because you'll drain it, just like pasta, when it's finished cooking.

The chicken might have a slight odor as a natural reaction to its vacuum packing. USDA recommends cooking chicken to 165°F.

1. Prepare Ingredients

Preheat oven to 425°F. Bring a medium pot of water to a boil over high heat. Trim and discard dark green top of leeks, if needed. Halve leeks lengthwise; cut crosswise into ½-inch half-moons. Place leeks in a bowl of cold water, separating pieces, to let dirt sink to bottom. Rinse remaining produce. Thinly slice celery and carrots crosswise on a diagonal (see Recipe Tip). Thinly slice chard crosswise, keeping stems and leaves separate.

2. Cook Rice and Roast Chicken

Season boiling water generously with salt. Stir in brown rice and cook until tender, 22-25 minutes (see Recipe Tip). Then, drain rice and set aside. Meanwhile, pat chicken dry with paper towel and place on a baking sheet. Rub all over with 1½ tablespoons olive oil, 1 teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Roast until cooked through and no longer pink, 15-17 minutes.

3. Caramelize Aromatics

While chicken roasts, using a slotted spoon or your hands, remove leek from water and pat dry with paper towel (don't drain leeks, or the dirt at the bottom of the bowl will pour over them). Heat 1½ tablespoons olive oil in a large pot over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add leek, celery, carrots, and chard stems. Sauté, stirring occasionally, until very soft and browning in spots, 7-8 minutes.

4. Prepare Garnishes

While aromatics cook, quarter lemons. Thinly slice chives. Roughly chop dill leaves, discarding stems. Set lemon wedges and herbs aside until ready to serve.

5. Simmer Soup

Add stock and ½ teaspoon salt to pot with caramelized aromatics. Increase heat to high and bring to a boil, then reduce to medium high and simmer until flavors have melded, about 6 minutes. Meanwhile, roughly chop roasted chicken into bite-size pieces, or shred using 2 forks. Reduce heat under pot to medium and stir in peas, chard leaves, rice, and shredded chicken. Simmer to warm through, 2 minutes more.

6. Plate Chicken Soup

Taste chicken soup and add salt and pepper as desired, then ladle into roomy serving bowls. Garnish with Parmesan, chives, and dill, and serve with lemon wedges for squeezing over. Dig in!
