Chop Steak

with Crispy Brussels Sprout Home Fries and Herb Compound Butter

Chop steak, or Hamburg steak (given its likely German origins), is most often described as the hamburger without the bun. But with the addition of breadcrumbs, aromatics, and Worcestershire sauce, it's so much more than its ketchup-laden counterpart. Here, we're even applying a cheffy condiment upgrade, slicing off coins of compound butter infused with parsley and tarragon to melt down over each meaty forkful.

Recipe Tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking.

Beef patties tend to puff up when cooked. Creating a shallow dimple in the center of each helps them cook evenly and keep their shape.

Refrigerate any leftover compound butter in an airtight container up to 1 week, or freeze up to 1 month. Spread on toast, or fold into mashed potatoes.

USDA recommends cooking ground beef to 160°F.

1. Boil Potatoes

Set aside 1 tablespoon butter and reserve for cooking home fries; place remaining butter in a small bowl and let soften at room temperature (this makes it easier to mash in Step 2). Rinse potatoes, quarter, and place in a medium pot. Cover with cold water by 1 inch, and season generously with salt. Bring to a boil over high heat and cook until tender when pierced with a knife tip, about 6 minutes. Then, drain and set aside.

2. Make Herb Compound Butter

While potatoes boil, rinse parsley. Roughly chop tarragon and parsley leaves, discarding stems. Mince garlic. Peel shallots and mince. Add chopped herbs, garlic, 1 tablespoon minced shallot, ⅛ teaspoon salt, and pepper to small bowl with butter. Using a fork, mash to fully combine. Transfer compound butter to 1 piece plastic wrap and roll into a 1-inch thick log. Twist ends of plastic to seal tightly. Place in freezer to help butter set.

3. Form Chop Steaks

In a medium bowl, combine breadcrumbs, Worcestershire sauce, 1 egg, ½ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Pat beef dry with paper towel and add to bowl. Using your hands, mix well, then divide into 2 equal pieces and form into oval-shaped patties, about 1 inch thick. Using your thumb, create a dimple on top of each (see Recipe Tip).

4. Sear Chop Steaks

Heat ½ tablespoon olive oil in a medium pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add chop steaks and sear, without flipping, until browned on bottom, about 4 minutes. Then, gently flip and continue searing until browned and medium rare, 3-4 minutes more. Transfer chop steaks to a plate. Cut 2 slices compound butter (we like ¼-inch thick coins, but it's up to you), and place on top of steaks to melt. Set aside.

5. Cook Home Fries

While chop steaks sear, heat reserved 1 tablespoon butter and 1 tablespoon olive oil in a large nonstick pan over medium heat. When butter is foamy, add sugar and remaining shallot and cook, stirring, until caramelized and tender, about 5 minutes. Increase heat to medium high. Add Brussels sprouts, potatoes, ½ teaspoon salt, and pepper. Sauté until sprouts are crisping and potatoes begin to brown, about 5 minutes more.

6. Plate Chop Steaks

Remove pan with home fries from heat and stir in mustard to combine, then divide crispy Brussels sprout home fries between serving plates. Transfer chop steaks to plates, and top with more compound butter as desired (see Recipe Tip). Dig in!
