Braised Chicken, Apricots, and Currants

with Roasted Fingerling Potatoes

With its simple techniques and elegant presentation, this customer-favorite Popular Recipe has the power to make dinnertime feel like a holiday treat, no matter the season. Golden-skinned chicken is braised with jewel-like apricots and currants in a delectable pan sauce of white wine, orange juice, and brown sugar. This balance of savory and sweet is complemented by crisp roasted potatoes and lightly wilted spinach.

You'll need

- olive oil
- kosher salt
- black pepper
- baking sheet
- 12" large high-sided ovenproof pan

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking.

Before preheating, make sure there's enough room in your oven for the large pan and baking sheet to fit at the same time. Move around racks if needed.

Deglazing is a technique in which adding liquid, like wine and orange juice, to the pan after cooking protein loosens any flavorful browned bits stuck to the bottom. Scrape them up into your sauce.

The chicken might have a slight odor as a natural reaction to its vacuum packing. USDA recommends cooking chicken to 165°F.

1. Prepare ingredients and make sauce

Preheat oven to 425°F (see recipe tip). Rinse spinach. Rinse potatoes and halve lengthwise. Halve oranges. Quarter apricots. Peel shallots and thinly slice into rings. In a medium bowl, whisk together brown sugar, white wine, juice of 2 oranges, 1 teaspoon olive oil, ½ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired to make sauce. Set aside until Step 4.

2. Roast potatoes

On a baking sheet, toss potatoes with 2 tablespoons olive oil, ¾ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired, then arrange cut-side down in a single layer, spacing apart as much as possible to help them crisp. Roast until golden and tender, about 18 minutes. Meanwhile, pat chicken dry with paper towel and season all over with 1 teaspoon salt.

3. Sear chicken

Heat 2 tablespoons olive oil in a large high-sided ovenproof pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add chicken skin-side down, working in batches and adding oil as needed. Sear until skin begins to brown, about 5 minutes. Flip and brown on opposite side, 1 minute more (you're getting a flavorful sear here—it'll finish cooking in the oven). Transfer chicken to a plate, skin-side up. Reduce heat under pan to medium.

4. Braise chicken

Add shallots to pan, still over medium heat, and cook, stirring, to soften, about 2 minutes. Remove pan from heat. Add half of sauce, scraping up brown bits from bottom of pan (see recipe tip). Scatter currants and apricots around in pan, then cover with remaining sauce. Return chicken to pan skin-side up, nestling into sauce. Transfer to oven and roast (with potatoes) until chicken is cooked through and no longer pink, 10–12 minutes.

5. Wilt spinach and finish sauce

Once potatoes are golden, add spinach and 2 teaspoons olive oil to baking sheet, toss to combine with potatoes, then spread in an even layer. Return to oven and continue roasting until spinach is wilted, 2 minutes more. Once chicken is cooked through, using a slotted spoon or tongs, transfer chicken to serving plates, leaving sauce behind in pan. Stir in butter to melt until sauce is silky.

6. Plate braised chicken

Spoon sauce, currants, and apricots over braised chicken, and serve with roasted potatoes and spinach. Dig in!
