USDA recommends cooking chicken to 165° F.

1. Begin Barbecue Sauce

Preheat oven to 425°F. Rinse jalapeño and halve lengthwise. Using a knife tip, discard seeds and mince. Mince garlic. Heat 1 tablespoon canola oil in a medium high-sided pan over medium heat. When oil is shimmering, add as much jalapeño as desired and ½ of garlic. Sauté until softened, 2-3 minutes. Add spice mix and cook, stirring frequently, until fragrant, about 1 minute more.

2. Simmer Barbecue Sauce

Add ketchup, soy sauce, sherry vinegar, and brown sugar to pan with jalapeño and stir to combine well. Simmer, stirring frequently, until thickened, 2-3 minutes. Taste and add salt and pepper as needed. Remove pan from heat and set aside.

3. Prepare Ingredients

Rinse remaining produce. Halve zucchini lengthwise, then cut crosswise into ½-inch slices. Quarter radishes. Shuck corn, discarding husks and silk, then slice off kernels into a medium bowl, discarding cob. Pick basil leaves, discarding stems. Rinse chicken and pat dry with paper towel.

4. Roast Chicken

Place chicken on a foil-lined baking sheet. Season on both sides with salt and pepper, then brush tops with ½ of barbecue sauce. Transfer to oven and roast until cooked through and no longer pink, 12-15 minutes. Remove from oven, brush tops with remaining barbecue sauce, and turn broiler to high. Return to top rack of oven and broil until sticky, about 3 minutes more.

5. Make Vegetable Hash

While chicken roasts, heat 1 tablespoon olive oil in a medium pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add zucchini and radishes and sauté until tender and lightly browning, about 6 minutes. Add corn and remaining garlic and sauté until corn is softening, 2-3 minutes more. Add basil, toss to combine, then remove pan from heat. Taste and add salt and pepper as needed.

6. Plate Chicken

Divide chicken evenly between 2 plates. Serve with vegetable hash alongside.
