Chickpea Rotini

with Red Pepper Pesto and Artichokes

We're so excited to introduce Banza rotini in tonight's recipe. The pasta is made from chickpeas, making it high in protein and gluten-free. It's tossed with a vibrant roasted red pepper, sun-dried tomato, and pine nut pesto. Enlist a helping hand to toss the pasta with the sauce, artichoke hearts, and spinach and garnish each serving.

MEALS WORTH MAKING

Ingredients

- 9 ounces baby spinach
- 3 ounces sun-dried tomatoes, divided
- 2 jars marinated artichoke hearts
- 3 tablespoons pine nuts, divided
- 1 pound Banza chickpea rotini
- 2 cloves garlic
- ⅓ cup roasted red peppers
- 2 ounces grated Parmesan cheese, divided

You'll need

olive oil kosher salt
black pepper
10" large pot
10" medium pan
blender or food processor (optional)

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

Pine nuts can burn quickly, so keep an eye on them and stir frequently as they toast.

Because this rotini is made of chickpeas, your pasta cooking water may become foamy during cooking. You can skim some of the foam off the top of the water and continue cooking as instructed.

No blender? Finely chop garlic, roasted red peppers, whole sun-dried tomatoes, and half of toasted pine nuts. Combine in a medium bowl with remaining pesto ingredients. The pesto may not be as smooth, but it will still be delicious.

1. Prepare ingredients

Bring a large pot of water to a boil over high heat. Rinse spinach and pat dry with paper towel. Cut half of sun-dried tomatoes into thin strips, leaving remainder whole for pesto. Drain artichoke hearts and roughly chop.

2. Toast pine nuts

Place pine nuts in a medium pan over medium-high heat. Toast, stirring, until golden and fragrant, 2–4 minutes (see recipe tip). Remove pan from heat, transfer pine nuts to a bowl, and set aside.

3. Cook chickpea rigatoni

Season boiling water generously with salt. Stir in chickpea rotini and cook until al dente, about 7 minutes (see recipe tip). Reserve ½ cup pasta cooking water, then drain and return to pot, off heat.

4. Make red pepper pesto

While rotini cooks, in a blender or food processor, combine whole garlic cloves, roasted red peppers, whole sun-dried tomatoes, half of toasted pine nuts, ¼ cup olive oil, ¾ teaspoon salt, and black pepper as desired (see recipe tip). Blend until smooth. Stir in half of Parmesan.

5. Finish rotini

Add spinach to pot with cooked rotini, still off heat, and toss to wilt slightly. Add red pepper pesto to pot with rotini and stir to combine (this is a great task for a kitchen helper). Adding 1 tablespoon at a time, stir in reserved pasta cooking water until sauce is silky. Gently fold in artichokes and sun-dried tomato strips.

6. Plate chickpea rotini

Divide chickpea rotini and red pepper pesto among serving bowls. Top with remaining toasted pine nuts and remaining Parmesan (or let a kitchen helper do this part). Enjoy!
