Chickpea, Spinach, and Quinoa Bowls

with Tikka Masala and Coriander-Lime Vinaigrette

While tikka masala usually involves a saucy Indian curry, tonight we're using the fragrant paste to give quinoa big, bold flavor. The quinoa is studded with dried cranberries and spinach, then topped with roasted carrots and chickpeas. We get another hit of warm, heady spices with garam masala—a blend made with coriander, cumin, and cinnamon—used here to give candied almonds depth and aroma.

You'll need

olive oil
kosher salt
black pepper
8" medium pot with lid
aluminum foil
baking sheet
8" small nonstick pan

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

A kitchen helper can pat the chickpeas and spinach dry in Step 2, season the chickpeas and carrots in Step 3, and whisk the vinaigrette in Step 5.

Cutting the carrots on a diagonal, also known as a bias cut, increases surface area for even cooking and better browning.

Almonds can burn quickly, so keep an eye on them and stir frequently as they toast.

1. Cook quinoa

Preheat oven to 450°F (see recipe tip). In a medium pot, combine quinoa, tikka masala curry paste, 1¾ cups water, and ½ teaspoon salt. Bring to a boil over high heat, then reduce heat to medium low, cover pot, and simmer until water is absorbed and quinoa is tender, about 15 minutes. Remove pot from heat and let stand, still covered, for 10 minutes.

2. Prepare ingredients

While quinoa cooks, rinse all produce. Drain and rinse chickpeas and pat dry with paper towel. Halve carrots lengthwise, then cut crosswise on a diagonal into 1-inch half-moons (see recipe tip). Pat spinach dry with paper towel. If you have a zester and want to infuse your vinaigrette with even more flavor, zest up to whole lime, then halve.

3. Roast carrots and chickpeas

Line a baking sheet with foil. Add chickpeas and carrots and toss with 1½ tablespoons olive oil, 1 teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Arrange in a single layer and roast until carrots are tender and chickpeas are browned and crisp, 18–20 minutes.

4. Make candied almonds

While carrots and chickpeas roast, place almonds in a small nonstick pan over medium-high heat. Toast, stirring, until golden, 2–3 minutes (see recipe tip). Add sugar and cook, stirring frequently, until sugar begins to melt and cling to almonds, 1 minute. Add garam masala, ⅛ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired to pan and cook, stirring vigorously, until fragrant, 1 minute more. Transfer candied almonds to a plate and set aside.

5. Make vinaigrette and finish quinoa

In a large bowl, whisk together coriander, juice of 1 lime, lime zest (if using), 2½ tablespoons olive oil, ¼ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired to combine. In a small bowl, reserve half of vinaigrette for serving. To large bowl with remaining vinaigrette, add dried cranberries, cooked quinoa, and spinach; stir to combine and wilt spinach slightly.

6. Plate chickpea and quinoa bowls

Divide tikka masala quinoa among serving bowls and top with roasted carrots and chickpeas. Drizzle over reserved coriander-lime vinaigrette, garnish with candied almonds, and dig in!
