

Chocolate Chip Scones

with Raspberry Preserves

With a tender crumb and golden crust, scones are perfect for tea time, breakfast, or dessert. Here, we fold mini chocolate chips into the dough, then brush with a vanilla glaze and sprinkle with raw sugar for crunch. Enjoy with your choice of softened butter or tangy-sweet raspberry preserves—we've sent both.

You'll need

- 1 egg
- kosher salt
- baking sheet

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking.

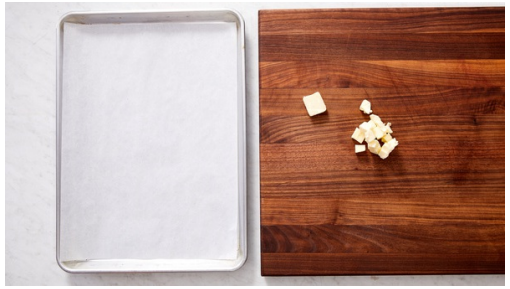

The idea here is to incorporate the butter entirely into the dry ingredients, but without making fine crumbs. You're looking for about ⅓ to ½ of the mixture to be larger, pea-size pieces.

The dough might appear crumbly at first, but don't worry—this is what gives the scones their tender, flaky texture. Keep gently pressing and shaping the dough, and the warmth from your hands well help the butter soften slightly to bind the dough together.

Making the scones ahead of time? Let them cool completely and store in an airtight container overnight. When you're ready to serve, arrange on a baking sheet, then warm in oven at 350°F for about 10 minutes.

1. Prepare ingredients

Preheat oven to 400°F. Cut butter into 4 equal pieces; set aside 1 piece to soften at room temperature for serving. Cut remaining butter into ¼-inch cubes for Step 3. Line a baking sheet with parchment paper.

2. Prepare wet ingredients

In a medium bowl, whisk together cream, vanilla, and 1 egg to combine. In a small bowl, reserve 1 tablespoon egg mixture for Step 4 and set aside.

3. Make dough

In a large bowl, whisk together granulated sugar, baking powder, 1¼ cups flour (reserve remainder), and ½ teaspoon salt to combine. Add cubed butter (not reserved butter for serving) and, using your hands or a fork, work butter into flour mixture to combine into a crumbly texture—the butter pieces should be pea-size (see recipe tip). Stir in chocolate chips and remaining egg mixture to combine, being careful not to overmix.

4. Form scones

Sprinkle remaining flour onto a clean, dry surface, coating your hands with a thin layer. Add dough and gently form and press into a circle, about ½-inch thick (see recipe tip). Cut into 8 equal wedges; transfer to prepared baking sheet. Gently brush or drizzle tops of scones with reserved egg mixture, then sprinkle over raw sugar.

5. Bake scones

Bake chocolate chip scones until light golden, 18–20 minutes. Use this time to get a head start on cleanup, or enjoy the sweet smells filling your kitchen.

6. Plate scones

Serve chocolate chip scones warm with raspberry preserves and reserved softened butter—cup of hot tea optional (see recipe tip). Dig in!
