Mexican Black Bean Burgers

with Sweet Potato Fries and Pickled Cabbage

We love a good veggie burger—especially when it's hearty enough to satisfy vegetarians and meat-eaters alike. Tonight, we're combining black beans with sweet potatoes, oregano, cumin, and chili powder for a hint of spice. Flaxseed acts as a binder to ensure these burgers stick together. But even if they fall apart a little, they'll still taste just as flavorful when served with creamy avocado and pickled cabbage.

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

Try rubbing your hands with 1 teaspoon olive oil before forming the patties—it'll help keep the bean mixture from sticking to your fingers.

Chipotle paste has a unique smoky and earthy flavor that adds heat to the crema. It's a bit spicy, so feel free to use less if preferred.

1. Prepare ingredients

Preheat oven to 450°F. Rinse all produce. Halve sweet potatoes lengthwise, then dice enough to yield ¼ cup of ¼-inch dice. Cut remaining sweet potato lengthwise into ½-inch slices, then cut lengthwise again into ½-inch fries. Drain and rinse black beans. Mince garlic. Halve lime. In a medium bowl, combine cabbage, juice of ½ lime, and ¼ teaspoon salt and toss to coat. Set aside to pickle. Use remaining lime to brighten a glass of water.

2. Bake sweet potato fries

On a baking sheet, toss sweet potato fries (not diced sweet potato) with half of Mexican spice mix, 1½ tablespoons olive oil, ½ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Arrange in a single layer and bake until golden brown and crisp, 20–25 minutes. Move on to Step 3, but don't forget to come back, then divide sweet potato fries between serving plates. Reserve baking sheet for toasting buns in Step 6.

3. Cook burger mixture

While fries bake, heat 1 tablespoon olive oil in a large nonstick pan over medium heat. When oil is shimmering, add diced sweet potatoes and black beans. Cook, stirring occasionally, until beans have dried out and sweet potatoes soften, 9–11 minutes. Transfer to a large bowl. Using a fork or potato masher, roughly mash black beans and sweet potatoes until combined but not completely smooth. Wipe pan clean for Step 5.

4. Form black bean burgers

In a small bowl, stir together ground flaxseed meal and 2 tablespoons cold water. Let sit until a thick paste forms, about 1 minute. To bowl with black bean mixture, add breadcrumbs, cornstarch, garlic, flax paste, remaining Mexican spice mix, and ¾ teaspoon salt. Using your hands, mix well, then form into 2 equal patties, about ½-inch thick (see recipe tip).

5. Sear burgers and make crema

Return pan from beans to medium heat with 2 tablespoons olive oil. When oil is shimmering, add black bean burgers and sear until browned and warmed through, 3–4 minutes per side. Meanwhile, halve avocado and discard pit; carefully scoop out flesh, discarding skin, then thinly slice. In a small bowl, stir together chipotle paste and sour cream to combine (see recipe tip).

6. Plate black bean burgers

Slice buns open horizontally, if they arrived whole, and arrange cut-side down on sheet from fries. Bake until light golden, 2–3 minutes. Add bun bottoms to plates with fries, then layer with Mexican black bean burgers and sliced avocado. Spread chipotle crema on bun tops and top with pickled cabbage. Serve any remaining crema on the side and dig in!
