Creamy Chicken Fettuccine

with Fennel, Peas, and Mint

Fettuccine, Italian for “little ribbons," are wider than spaghetti, making them ideal for trapping sauce. Here, it's a white wine and stock reduction that gets silky texture from adding some of the pasta's starchy cooking water back in. We balance subtly sweet seasonal fennel and peas with creamy mascarpone and salty Parmesan, stirred in just before serving.

Plated.

Ingredients

¼ ounce mint
2 bulbs fennel
3 shallots
8 chicken thighs
1 cup white wine
12 ounces fettuccine
1 cup peas
1 container mascarpone cheese
2 ounces grated Parmesan cheese, divided

You'll need

olive oil kosher salt
black pepper
10" large pot
12" large ovenproof pan

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking.

Searing chicken in a dry pan might sound crazy, but there's good reason: Its natural fat slowly melts from beneath the skin, creating a golden crust without oil or butter.

In Step 6, feel free to add 2–3 more tablespoons pasta cooking water to help loosen the sauce once the cheese is added.

The chicken might have a slight odor as a natural reaction to its vacuum packing. USDA recommends cooking chicken to 165°F.

1. Prepare ingredients

Preheat oven to 450°F. Bring a large pot of water to a boil over high heat. Rinse mint and pick leaves, discarding stems. Rinse fennel bulbs and halve, then cut cores out in a wedge shape and discard. Slice fennel as thinly as possible. Peel shallots, halve, and thinly slice. Pat chicken dry with paper towel and season all over with 1 teaspoon salt and pepper as desired.

2. Sear chicken

Heat a large ovenproof pan over medium-high heat. Carefully hover your hand a few inches away—when you can easily feel heat, add chicken skin-side down, working in batches as needed (see recipe tip). Sear until skin is golden and easily lifts from pan, 5 minutes. Flip and sear opposite side, 1 minute more (it'll finish cooking in the oven). Transfer chicken to a plate, skin-side up. Discard almost all fat from pan, leaving a thin layer.

3. Roast chicken

Return pan from chicken to medium-high heat with 1 tablespoon olive oil. When oil is shimmering, add fennel and shallots and sauté, stirring, until caramelized and tender, 5–6 minutes. Add wine and cook until reduced by half, 2 minutes more. Remove pan from heat. Return chicken to pan skin-side up, nestling partway into vegetables. Transfer to oven and roast until chicken is cooked through and no longer pink, 15–17 minutes.

4. Boil fettuccine

While chicken roasts, season boiling water generously with salt. Stir in fettuccine and cook until al dente, 9–11 minutes. Reserve ½ cup pasta cooking water (starchy pasta cooking water will help your sauce cling to the noodles), then drain and set aside.

5. Shred chicken

Once roasted, transfer chicken to cutting board, leaving vegetables behind in pan, off heat. Remove and discard skin from chicken, then shred using 2 forks or roughly chop, discarding bones. Return shredded chicken to pan with vegetables and toss to combine.

6. Finish and plate fettuccine

Add peas, mascarpone, fettuccine, half of Parmesan, and half of reserved pasta cooking water to pan with chicken and toss to coat (see recipe tip). Taste and add salt and pepper as desired. Divide creamy chicken fettuccine among serving bowls. Dust with remaining Parmesan, and tear mint over top. Dig in!
