Creamy Chicken Soup

with Peas, Carrots, and Puff Pastry Croutons

In this recipe, we're channeling all the steamy, buttery, soul-warming goodness of chicken pot pie into a soup. While chicken breasts roast, you'll create a creamy broth laced with plenty of aromatics, shredded carrots, and peas for color and texture. Rather than the traditional pie crust lid, we're creating a no-fuss version with rustic, flaky puff pastry croutons.

Flour helps thicken the soup as it simmers. Stir it into the vegetables before adding the liquid to toast it slightly and prevent any flour lumps.

1. Prepare ingredients

Preheat oven to 450°F. Roughly chop carrots (they're already shredded, but chopping into even smaller pieces helps them cook more quickly in Step 4, and ensures you'll get some carrots in every spoonful of soup). Peel onion and finely chop. Mince garlic. Line a baking sheet with foil for the next step.

2. Roast and shred chicken

Pat chicken dry with paper towel, place on prepared baking sheet, and rub all over with 2 teaspoons olive oil, ½ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Roast until cooked through and no longer pink, 10–12 minutes (move on to Step 3—but don't forget to come back). Transfer chicken to cutting board and set aside to rest, about 5 minutes, then shred using 2 forks or roughly chop. Set aside for Step 5.

3. Bake puff pastry croutons

While chicken roasts, cut puff pastry into 2-inch pieces (don't worry about making them uniform—you're going for a rustic look). Line a separate baking sheet with parchment paper, then add puff pastry pieces in a single layer. Brush tops lightly with olive oil and season with pepper as desired. Bake (with chicken) until croutons are puffed and golden brown, 7–10 minutes.

4. Simmer soup

While croutons bake, heat 2 teaspoons olive oil in a large pot over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add carrots, onion, and garlic; sauté, stirring, until softened, 5 minutes. Add flour, butter, and ¼ teaspoon salt (see recipe tip). Cook, stirring continuously, until flour is lightly browned, 2–3 minutes. Whisk in milk, bouillon cube, and 2 cups water. Bring to a boil over high heat, then reduce heat to medium-high; simmer, stirring, until slightly thickened, 5–6 minutes.

5. Finish soup

To pot with soup, still over medium-high heat, stir in peas and shredded chicken. Cook, stirring, until soup has thickened slightly and flavors have melded, 2–3 minutes. Season with ½ teaspoon salt and pepper as desired; remove pot from heat.

6. Plate creamy chicken soup

Let creamy chicken soup cool slightly, then ladle into serving bowls. Top with puff pastry croutons and garnish with pepper as desired. Dig in!
