Curry-Roasted Chicken

with Apricot Chutney and Coconut Rice

Tonight's Indian-inspired fake-out takeout includes a homemade apricot chutney that you're going to want to make again and again. We blend together apricot preserves, mint, cilantro, lime juice, and olive oil to create a sweet and savory condiment. It's drizzled over spice-rubbed chicken, sautéed chickpeas and spinach, and fluffy coconut rice.

25–35 minutes 900 calories per serving

Plated.

Ingredients

- ½ ounce ginger
- 2 cans lite coconut milk
- 1½ cups jasmine rice
- 4 boneless chicken breasts
- 1 tablespoon vindaloo curry paste
- 2 cans chickpeas
- 1 herb mix
  - ½ ounce cilantro, divided
  - ½ ounce mint
- 1 lime
- 4 cloves garlic
- 2 packets apricot preserves
- 8 ounces baby spinach

You'll need

olive oil kosher salt
black pepper
8" medium pot with lid aluminum foil baking sheet
blender or food processor (optional)
12" large high-sided pan

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking.

Vigorously shake the coconut milk can before opening, or pierce the solids with a spoon before pouring into the pot to avoid a messy splatter. Save remaining coconut milk for another recipe.

The chicken might have a slight odor as a natural reaction to its vacuum packing. USDA recommends cooking chicken to 165°F.

1. Cook coconut rice

Preheat oven to 450°F. Trim and discard skin of ginger. Measure out 2½ cups coconut milk (see recipe tip); place in a medium pot. Add rice, whole ginger knob, and ½ teaspoon salt. Bring to a boil over high heat. Stir once, reduce heat to medium low, cover pot, and simmer until liquid is fully absorbed, 10–12 minutes. Remove pot from heat; let stand, still covered, for 5 minutes. Fluff rice with a fork, then cover again until ready to serve.

2. Roast chicken

While rice cooks, line a baking sheet with foil. Pat chicken dry with paper towel and arrange skin-side up on prepared baking sheet. Season all over with 1 teaspoon salt and pepper as desired, then rub tops of chicken with curry paste. Roast until chicken is cooked through and no longer pink, and skin is crispy, 12–15 minutes.

3. Prepare ingredients

While chicken roasts, drain and rinse chickpeas. Rinse all produce. Pick cilantro leaves and cut stems into ½-inch pieces, keeping separate. Pick mint leaves, discarding stems. Halve lime. Thinly slice garlic.

4. Make apricot chutney

In a blender or food processor, combine apricot preserves, mint, cilantro leaves, juice of 1 lime, 3 tablespoons olive oil, 1 tablespoon water, and ½ teaspoon salt; blend until smooth. Alternatively, mince herbs, then place in a small bowl and whisk in remaining chutney ingredients to combine.

5. Sauté spinach and chickpeas

Heat 2 tablespoons olive oil in a large high-sided pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add chickpeas and garlic. Sauté, stirring, until chickpeas are golden and garlic is fragrant, 3–4 minutes. Pat spinach dry with paper towel and add to pan (working in batches as needed), along with cilantro stems. Sauté until beginning to wilt, about 1 minute more. Season with ¾ teaspoon salt and pepper. Remove pan from heat.

6. Plate curry-roasted chicken

Remove and discard whole ginger knob from pot, then divide coconut rice among serving plates. Top with sautéed chickpeas and spinach, then curry-roasted chicken. Drizzle apricot chutney over everything. Enjoy!
