Coconut French Toast

with Pineapple Compote and Kiwi

We're being transported to a tropical island with this morning's brunch recipe, complete with warm pineapple compote and fresh kiwi. We're using our method for classic French toast, but adding coconut milk to the egg-y custard. Soft, fluffy brioche bread is dipped in, then seared in butter until golden and crisp. For extra coconut flavor, toasted shredded coconut is sprinkled over top.

MEALS WORTH MAKING

Ingredients

- 1 kiwi
- 2 containers pineapple
- 1 tablespoon dark brown sugar
- 6 packets unsalted butter
- ¼ cup shredded coconut
- 1 can lite coconut milk
- ½ teaspoon vanilla extract
- 6 eggs
- 6 slices brioche

You'll need

kosher salt
6" small pot with lid
12" large nonstick pan
13 x 9" large baking dish (optional)

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking.

Use a knife or vegetable peeler to peel the kiwi—or, if it's ripe enough, you can slice off the ends and use a spoon to scoop the flesh out.

Coconut milk solids naturally separate from the liquids during transit, but come together during cooking. Vigorously shake the can before opening, or pierce the solids with a spoon before pouring into the pan to avoid a messy splatter.

We add the brioche to the custard just before cooking so the bread doesn't get soggy. Wait to dip the slices until there's enough space in the pan, and cook in batches as needed. Note that later batches may cook more quickly since the pan's already hot.

1. Prepare ingredients

Peel kiwi, discarding skin; quarter lengthwise, then cut crosswise into ¼-inch slices (see recipe tip). Remove pineapple from containers and roughly chop; reserve pineapple juice in containers for Step 2.

2. Make pineapple compote

In a small pot, combine brown sugar, pineapple, pineapple juice, 2 tablespoons water, and ¼ teaspoon salt; bring to a boil over high heat. Stir once and reduce heat to medium. Simmer, stirring occasionally, until liquid is reduced by half and pineapple has broken down, 10–12 minutes (move on to next step, but don't forget to come back). Remove pot from heat; stir in 3 packets butter to combine. Cover and set aside.

3. Toast coconut

Place shredded coconut in a large nonstick pan over medium-high heat. Toast, stirring frequently, until golden, 3–5 minutes. Transfer to a small bowl and set aside. Reserve pan, off heat, for Step 5.

4. Make custard

Open coconut milk (see recipe tip) and pour into a large shallow bowl or baking dish. Add vanilla, 4 eggs, and ¼ teaspoon salt and whisk to combine. Save remaining eggs for tomorrow's breakfast.

5. Cook French toast

Return pan from toasted coconut to medium-high heat with 1 packet butter. When butter is foamy, working 1 at a time, dip brioche into custard, flipping to coat both sides (see recipe tip). Allow excess to drip off, then add to pan. Cook, working in batches and adding remaining butter as needed, until golden on bottom, 2–3 minutes. Flip, reduce heat to medium, and cook until golden brown, 3–4 minutes more.

6. Plate coconut French toast

Divide coconut French toast between serving plates. Top with pineapple compote. Garnish with kiwi and toasted coconut. Aloha!
