Creamy Cod Chowder

with Herbed Sourdough Croutons

The silky texture of tonight's cod chowder is achieved with a few cheffy tricks. First, we add a little flour to butter-sautéed potatoes, onion, and garlic for thicker body. We simmer with broth and white wine until the vegetables are tender, then mash some of the potatoes in the pot to release their starches and thicken the soup. A splash of cream brings extra richness. On top, sourdough croutons provide crunchy contrast.

- baking sheet
- potato masher (optional)

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

The stems of parsley are actually quite tender, so we've kept them for extra flavor and aroma. Chop as finely as possible for the best texture.

Flour helps thicken the chowder as it simmers. Stir it into the vegetables before adding the liquid to toast it slightly and prevent any flour lumps in your soup.

USDA recommends cooking fish to 145°F.

1. Prepare ingredients

Preheat oven to 425°F. Roughly chop or tear sourdough into 1-inch pieces. Rinse all produce. Cut potatoes into ½-inch pieces. Finely chop parsley leaves and stems (see recipe tip). Peel onion and cut into small dice. Mince garlic.

2. Sauté vegetables

Heat butter and 1 teaspoon olive oil in a large pot over medium-high heat. When butter is foamy, add potatoes, onion, garlic, and ½ teaspoon salt; sauté, stirring occasionally, until onion and garlic are softened, about 5 minutes. Add flour and cook, stirring continuously, until no longer visible, 1–2 minutes more (see recipe tip).

3. Simmer chowder

To pot with vegetables, still over medium-high heat, add bouillon cube, white wine, 4 cups water, and ¼ teaspoon salt; stir to combine. Increase heat to high and bring to a boil, then reduce heat to medium high; simmer, stirring occasionally, until liquid is thickened and potatoes are tender, 10–12 minutes.

4. Season cod and croutons

While chowder simmers, line a baking sheet with foil. On 1 half of sheet, toss sourdough with 2 teaspoons olive oil and ⅛ teaspoon salt; arrange in a single layer. Pat cod dry with paper towel and add to other half of prepared sheet in a single layer; season all over with ½ teaspoon salt and pepper as desired.

5. Bake cod and croutons

Bake cod and croutons until cod is opaque and cooked through and croutons are toasted and golden, 7–10 minutes. Then, still on sheet, carefully toss croutons with parsley to combine. Meanwhile, once chowder has thickened, with pot still over medium-high heat, stir in cream, ¼ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Simmer until slightly reduced, 2–3 minutes more. Remove pot from heat.

6. Plate creamy cod chowder

Still off heat, using a large fork or potato masher, carefully mash half of potatoes in pot with chowder, then stir to combine. Taste and season with salt and pepper as desired. Using a fork, flake baked cod into large pieces. Ladle chowder into serving bowls. Top with flaked cod and herbed sourdough croutons. Enjoy!
