If you like...
Mild curry: use 1 teaspoon of curry paste.
Medium curry: use ½ tablespoon curry paste.
Spicy curry: use all of curry paste.

Coconut milk solids naturally separate from the liquids during transit. No worries—it will come together during cooking.

Rinsing the vermicelli noodles in cold water will stop the cooking process so they don't over cook!

1. Prepare Ingredients

Preheat oven to 450°F. Bring a large pot of water to a boil over high heat and cover. Trim and discard skin of ginger and mince. Peel onion and cut into medium dice. Rinse cauliflower and cut into ½-inch pieces, discarding leaves and tough stem. Roughly chop peanuts.

2. Roast Cauliflower

On a baking sheet, toss cauliflower with 1 tablespoon canola oil, ¼ teaspoon salt and pepper as desired. Arrange in a single layer and roast until golden and tender, 13-15 minutes.

3. Make Curry Base

While cauliflower roasts, heat 1 tablespoon canola oil in a medium pot over medium heat. When oil is shimmering, add ginger and onion and sauté, stirring, until softening, 3-5 minutes. Season with ¼ teaspoon salt and pepper as desired. Add brown sugar and stir to fully combine, about 2 minutes. Add as much curry paste as desired (see Recipe Tip) and cook, stirring, about 1 minute more.

4. Simmer Curry

Add coconut milk, vegetable stock, peanut butter, and soy sauce to pot with curry base and stir to combine (see Recipe Tip). Increase heat to high and bring to a boil, then reduce heat to medium and simmer until curry is thickened and flavors have melded, about 10 minutes. Season with ½ teaspoon salt and stir to combine.

5. Cook Rice Noodles

While curry simmers, add rice noodles to pot of boiling water and immediately remove pot from heat. Let soak until noodles are tender, about 6 minutes. Drain and rinse under cold water for 30 seconds to stop cooking (see Recipe Tip). Set aside.

6. Season Curry

Add spinach and roasted cauliflower to pot with curry and stir to combine. Cook until spinach is wilted, 1-2 minutes. Remove pot from heat and stir in rice noodles. Taste and add more salt and pepper as desired. Divide between 2 bowls and garnish with chopped peanuts. Dig in!
